Hi everyone! We hope you can join us in our new venue for a great evening of music!

Bruce Callan is retired and lives on Hoople Creek Bay with his wife Rosemary. Bruce enjoys performing at area Open Mics and, along with his bandmates from the Glengarry Ramblers, hosts a monthly Open Mic evening in Cornwall. Bruce has written a number of songs, getting musical influences from the Folk and Americana genres and from artists such as John Prine, Guy Clark and Jerry Jeff Walker, to name a few. He likes to tell stories, stories that are influenced by where he lives, his family, personal experiences and by life observations and the quirks of life.

Tilted Steeple organizer and host Isabelle Delage and her singing partner Sam Moss will play a few tunes, drawing, among other sources, from their recently recorded album, The Lockdown Sessions. They will be joined again this month by Mick Perreux of Plain Folk.

Tripoly is an acoustic trio combining the silken voice of Elizabeth McNally with seasoned performers Doug Hendry on guitar and cittern and Glenna Hunter on fiddle and cello. Creating wonderful three-part harmonies, the trio performs a mixture of songs and tunes from the British Isles and beyond as well as their folky takes on more contemporary pieces. Formed just before the pandemic, the trio has used the time not only in honing their unique sound, but also creating a short film that they released earlier in 2022. For more information about Tripoly, please visit their website at <https://fiddleheadsoup.com/tripoly>.

As always, we will end the evening with an audience participation song, led this month by Tripoly.

Beverages and snacks are available by donation, coordinated by the Anglican Parish of South Dundas to benefit its outreach activities.
